A blonde city girl named Amy marries a Tasmanian farmer. One morning, on his way out to check on the cows, the farmer says to Amy, 'The insemination man is coming over to impregnate one of our cows today, so I drove a nail into the 2 by 4 just above where the cow's stall is in the barn. Please show him where the cow is when he gets here, OK?' The farmer leaves for the fields. After a while, the artificial insemination man arrives and knocks on the front door. Amy takes him down to the barn. They walk along the row of cows and when Amy sees the nail, she tells him, 'This is the one right here.' The man, assuming he is dealing with an air head blonde, asks, 'Tell me lady, 'cause I'm dying to know; how would YOU know that this is the right cow to be bred?' 'That's simple," she said. "By the nail that's over its stall,' she explains very confidently. Laughing rudely at her, the man says, 'And what, pray tell, is the nail for?' The blonde turns to walk away and says sweetly over her shoulder, 'I guess it's to hang your pants on.'

A young couple moves into a new neighbourhood. The next morning while they are eating breakfast, The young woman sees her neighbour hanging the wash outside. "That laundry is not very clean", she said. "She doesn't know how to wash correctly. Perhaps she needs better laundry soap." Her husband looked on, but remained silent. Every time her neighbour would hang her wash to dry, The young woman would make the same comments. About one month later, the woman was surprised to see a Nice clean wash on the line and said to her husband: "Look, she has learned how to wash correctly. I wonder who taught her this." The husband said, "I got up early this morning and cleaned our windows." And so it is with life. What we see when watching others depends on the purity of the window through which we look.

Ella Chivers was one of two representatives we had at RYPEN at Roches Beach last weekend. Ella described the activities offered including motivational and goal setting speakers. She detailed that one of the key things she achieved was getting to know others outside the crowd that she usually mixes with. Grandpa and Grandma Lindsay and Jean would be justly proud of her.

Hannah Marmion from Lauderdale was our sponsored student at the National Youth Science Forum. A great representative, as someone said she could end up anywhere - maybe one day as Prime Minister. She announced that she has been invited to train as a staff member for next year's forum. Hannah attended the Forum in Perth and found the opportunities to discuss with others just a bit older than herself her future options a key part of her experience. Her ambitions have changed as she's grown older from Vet to Medicine and now keeping her options open in the Bio-Medical field.

Council of Legislation is presently being held in Chicago.

One of the few resolutions passed was this one to amend the 85 rule.

Number 23 - Excused Absences. A member's absence shall be excused if the age of the member is 65 and above and the aggregate of the member's years of age and years of membership in one or more clubs is 85 years or more and the member has notified the club secretary in writing of the member's desire to be excused from attendance and the board has approved. However, any member whose absences are excused under this provision shall not be eligible to serve as an officer or director of this club.

Here are some of the 205 books delivered to Clarendon Primary School last week. The idea was to give a book to all students from K to grade 3 to take home. There were also some book sets suitable for class use.

The books came from a publishing house in Melbourne who would otherwise have taken them to the tip.

Thanks to Kerry for her Melbourne contact.
