THE PORCH

A young blonde girl in her late teens, wanting to earn some extra money for the summer, decided to hire herself out as a "handy woman" and started canvassing a nearby well-to-do neighbourhood.

She went to the front door of the first house and asked the owner if he had any odd jobs for her to do.

"Well, I guess I could use somebody to paint the porch" he said. "How much will you charge me?"

Delighted, the girl quickly responded, "How about $50?"

The man agreed and told her that the paint and brushes and everything she would need were in the garage. The man's wife, hearing the conversation, said to her husband, "Does she realize that our porch goes ALL the way around the house?"

"That's a bit cynical, isn't it?" he responded.

The wife replied, "You're right. I guess I'm starting to believe all those dumb blonde jokes."

A few hours later the blonde came to the door to collect her money.

"You're finished already??" the startled husband asked.

"Yes," the blonde replied, "and I even had paint left over so I gave it two coats."

Impressed, the man reached into his pocket for the $50 and handed it to her along with a $10 tip.

"Thank you," the blonde said, "And, by the way, it's not a Porch, it's a Lexus."

Here and There

The yellow boat's arrival around 27th Hobart is hoped to be met by a flotilla of boats. If you've friends that would like to join in, get them out on the Derwent with a banner.

Suzanne has been spreading at the word at Clarence High, spent some time with Principal Marcel Watts.

Our candidate for Youth Science Forum Nicholas McVilly. has been successful in the selection process. He lives at Cremorne and attends Hutchins School.

Richard and Sue reports from the Northern Territory that it's too hot to drink red wine unless it's kept in the fridge. Boags is beer of the month at the pup (I guess Richard shouted the bar)

Have we a project that could attract a District Simplified Grant? It's a shame not to get soeme money back, Kerry's researched some information about Art and Craft shows, anyone interested in helping?

The Administration committee recommended that we trial going without a top table. This will be started this week. I also believe it is essential that people move around and not sit in the same area each week. Try it.
